Commencement

SIX O'CLOCK IN THE EVENING
WEDNESDAY, MAY FOURTEENTH
TWO THOUSAND TWENTY-FIVE

The Academic Tradition

The robes worn by participants in commencement exercises have a history dating from the 12th and 13th centuries. Each scholar wears a cap, gown and, perhaps, a hood that designates his or her highest degree and the institution that granted it.

Although the most common cap is the square mortarboard, six or eight-sided tams are worn at some universities. The tassel, after a degree has been conferred, is worn over the front quarter of the cap. The tassel of a doctor is gold, whereas the tassel of a master, bachelor or associate is usually black, but can also take on the college's official colors.

The style of the gown signifies the highest degree held by the wearer. The gown is usually black, but some institutions provide gowns in their college colors. The doctor's gown is silk with velvet trim on the front and on the bell-shaped sleeves. The master's gown lacks the velvet trim and has very long, oblong sleeves that are closed at the end.

The forearms protrude through slits near the elbow of the master's gown. Bachelor's and associate's gowns have straight or pointed sleeves that open at their ends.

A hood is usually worn by doctors and masters. The hood is worn around the neck over the shoulders, draped down the back. The official colors of the institution that conferred the degree are used in the lining of the hood. The velvet edging of the hood indicates the degree. White is for arts and letters, light blue is for education, pink for music, dark blue for philosophy, gold or yellow for science, copper for business administration and brown for fine arts.

A stole, ribbon, cord or other ornament worn with the gown usually symbolizes a special honor bestowed on the wearer. Students who graduate from St. Charles Community College with "Cum Laude," "Magna Cum Laude," or "Summa Cum Laude" wear a gold cord over the shoulder and a gold mortarboard tassel with the academic gown. Members of Phi Theta Kappa, the national academic honor society for community college students, wear a golden stole that honors their scholarly achievement. Student clubs and organizations may provide honor cords to their graduates who have achieved certain milestones that are meaningful to the individual club or organization.

Maxine Clark

Founder, Build-A-Bear Workshop, CEO, Clark-Fox Family Foundation, Inspirator, the Delmar DivINe™

Maxine Clark is the Founder of Build-A-Bear Workshop®, a teddy-bear themed retail-entertainment experience. In 2004, Build-A-Bear became a public company traded on the NYSE. Today there are nearly 500 Build-A-Bear Workshop stores worldwide and over 250 million stuffed animals have been sold world-wide. In 2022, Build-A-Bear celebrated its 25th anniversary. In 2025 Maxine was inaugurated into the International Toy Hall of Fame and named by Chain Store age magazine as one of the 20 most Influential Pioneers in Retail.

Maxine stepped down from her CEB (Chief Executive Bear) position in 2013 to start her next act-- to help unleash the potential of women and minority entrepreneurs and to use her entrepreneurial skills to create platforms and places that give access to more St. Louis families. Her latest venture is the Delmar DivINe™—the transformation of a neighborhood eyesore, the historic St. Luke's Hospital in the St. Louis West End, into a multi-use real estate development opened in late 2021.

Maxine is an Emeritus member of the Build-A-Bear Workshop Board of Directors and a recent past member of Footlocker, Inc. Board of Directors. Maxine is also an Emeritus member of the Washington University Board of Trustees and an Emeritus member and former Chair of Goldfarb School of Nursing. She now serves on the boards of Arch Grants, PBS national and Nine PBS boards. In 2017 Maxine was named to the Missouri Public Affairs Hall of Fame and in 2015 was named Women of the Year by the Greater Missouri Leadership Foundation.

Maxine is a graduate of the University of Georgia and holds an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Washington University in St. Louis and St. Louis University and an Honorary Doctor in Human Letters from the University of Missouri St. Louis and The A.T. Still School of Dental Medicine and an Honorary Associates degree from St. Louis Community College.
