I absolutely loved my time as a human services student at St. Charles Community College. I consider my education from this institution to be invaluable, and I cherish the time that I spent learning under Sylvia's wing. Sylvia works hard to ensure that her students reach their maximum potential and even went the extra mile to help us in preparing for our HS-BCPE, which I passed with flying colors thanks to her help. Sylvia is the best professor I've ever had, and I feel that if I were taught by someone else, I wouldn't feel as comfortable and prepared for the human services field as I do today.

I believe things happen for a reason when I started SCC in the fall of 2018, I had to take a class called college success seminar (COL 101) and my professor in that course was Sylvia Malta.

while attending SCC that first semester I knew I wanted to be a paralegal and I was ready for it I always pushed social work back because I figured I wasn't right for it because I had too much of a heart and I wanted to help but because of her being my professor in that course I asked her questions and she said "if you have that drive and have that heart then why stop? keep going and make that difference" after that conversation with her the next day I went to enrollment services and I asked to change my degree into the associates of applied Sciences in Human Services and I am so glad I did that because I am so close to helping those in need and without her wisdom and her being there to hold my hand each time I don't think I would have gotten this far and I thank her every single day and I think of her all the experiences I was able to gain. because of her she makes a difference each day in people's lives.

I wanted to give Professor Malta a huge thank you, as well as my classmates because without their love, support, and discipline I would be just another uneducated employee in this career. I wish I could stay at SCC forever.

I have truly enjoyed my time and experience by growing my knowledge in this field. I came in thinking I wanted to go one route with my education and I now am leaving SCC in a completely different direction. I feel that Professor Sylvia Malta has done a phenomenal job with preparing me for my future journey by providing myself and my peers with real life scenarios. I am grateful and I am excited to see what the social work life holds for me.

I know I am one of many students to have been given the blessing of having Professor Malta as an educator. I am most pleased with my education journey at St. Charles Community College. I have gained an amazing experience from being in HMS classes to going out of my comfort zone and contacting agencies for an interview. St. Charles Community College should be lucky to have such an educator that impacts students' lives in a positive manner but continues to focus students on believing in their futures. Professor Malta showed the most gratitude and care out of all my education years when SCC moved to online schooling due to the virus. It's been an honor working with an educator who cares about their student in and out of the classroom. Thank you, Sylvia Bane Malta, for continuing to believe in me when the world had me convinced, I was small. It's amazing knowing how far I've come as a student/pre-professional/person with the knowledge that you've shared.

I have thoroughly enjoyed my time at SCC and specifically in Professor Malta's classes. She has done an amazing job at preparing me for my next. I am better because of her. She has opened my eyes to so much that I just wasn't aware of as well as expanded my knowledge base immensely. There were times when she went above and beyond just to make sure that we received all of the necessary tools that we need before going out into the field. I will be forever a student of Professor Malta as I'm sure that I will be in contact with her, even after I leave. Thank you. Thank you. Thank you!
